

A gift in your will could be a lifeline, ensuring older people always have someone to turn to.

Too many older people feel they have no one to turn to for support.

More and more people are facing a later life that they never expected – affected by long term health issues, poverty and loneliness.

We work locally, at the heart of the community to ensure older people aren't forgotten or left to struggle on their own.

With the help of our supporters, we are improving the lives of older people, easing troubles when times are tough and coming together to brighten someone's day.

A gift in your will could ensure older people have someone to turn to, when they need it most.

'When I was diagnosed with dementia, the first people to help were from my local Age UK. They've been a godsend to us.'

– Keith

Your gift could leave a friend for Patricia.

After suddenly becoming very unwell, Patricia was forced to move from her native London to Yorkshire to be closer to her son.

Knowing almost no one and still recovering from her illness which had made it hard for her to walk, Patricia felt very much like an outsider.

We were able to help Patricia regain her independence through our face to face befriending service. Patricia was matched with Angela and they hit it off straight away. As well as helping her get out and about in her new community, Patricia says her friendship with Angela has made her 'feel young again'.

'I was a stranger in a new environment. Angela has made me feel young again, we're like a couple of girls when we get together!'

– Patricia

Thank you for considering leaving a gift in your will. Your kindness could be a lifeline for older people who are struggling, for years to come.

We recommend that you speak to a qualified professional such as a solicitor, when making or amending your will.

Your solicitor is able to advise you on the required wording to carry out your wishes. To include a gift to us, they will ask for our registered address and registered charity number, please see these below.

You can choose to leave a residuary gift (a share of your estate after taxes and debts have been paid), a pecuniary gift (a fixed sum of money) or a specific gift (a specific possession such as a painting or stocks and shares). We are delighted to receive any gift you choose to leave after taking care of your loved ones.

Thank you
