

EXPLORING THE INTERNET WITH A SMARTPHONE

A beginner-friendly course at Islington North Library

Five Thursday afternoons (2 – 4 pm)
14, 21, 28 November and 12, 19 December

About this introductory course

A step-by-step practical guide to finding genuinely useful things to do on the World Wide Web – and how to do them on a phone – safely and sensibly.

You will start with your priorities and ambitions – and you might finish with digital skills that you didn't know existed.

Just as important – you should become more confident in your own ability to keep exploring and learning.

We offer continued support, if you need it, at our digital drop-in – every Wednesday at Mildmay Community Centre.

When and where

- Five Thursday afternoons (2 – 4 pm)
14, 21, 28 November and 12, 19 December
(skipping 5 December because the hall is not available on that day).
- Islington North Library, Manor Gardens, N7 6JX
- Bus: 4, 17, 21, 29, 91, 153, 253, 263

Online safety first ...

For your personal security – you will not use your own device, your own email address or your own phone number as part of the course.

Everyone will use our safety-first smartphones – set up for people who don't have a lot of internet experience – so we can all focus together on what is really important.

How to join the course, or ask for more info

1. Check the dates and times to be reasonably sure you will be available on those five Thursday afternoons.
2. Tell us – as soon as possible – that you want to do it – in an email to courses@50pd.uk, or contact us (text or voice call) at 07423 162019

What is 50+ Digital?

Short answer – “Older people challenging isolation and exclusion our communities”.

We have been doing it almost continuously since 2005. Our main focus is digital inclusion – but our purpose is really about social inclusion. Our core belief is that digital technology should enhance the real world that we already understand – otherwise it has little value for us.

Our website is <https://50pd.uk> – everything we do is free – we are 50+, but you just have to be 18+
